USES FOR MINT.

Be Ingenious if You Would Wring All Its Flavor.

There are innumerable ways in which the ever present spearmint bed ought to be utilized besides for the regular mint jelly, ice or punch.
First—Boil a sprig with new potatoes, beans or peas.
Second—In spicing young beets add a sprig to the heated vinegar and spices, or in canning the same simply lay a few leaves in the top of the can before sealing.
Third—Chop finely and sprinkle, just before serving, over an iced fruit compote or over a sweet fruit salad.
Fourth—Used in the same way over a chicken or veal salad it gives a decidedly piquant flavor.
Fifth—Add, chopped fine, as you would parsley, to deviled eggs or ham.
Sixth—Chop coarsely and add three heaping tablespoonsful to one-half cup weak vinegar with brown sugar to taste, to serve with roast lamb.
Seventh—Last, there is no greater delicacy than candied mint leaves if one has the patience to make them successfully.

His Motive.

Pillows—I never realized till three years ago why Dobson was always preaching patience. Bolsters—What made you realize it then? Pillows—I lent him $10.—New York Globe.

FIVE KILLED

BY TWENTIETH CENTURY EXPRESS AT ELYRIA

Automobilists, Returning From Community Picnic, Struck By Train—Witnesses Say Crossing Gates Were Up

Elyria, O., Aug. 17.—The New York Central's Twentieth Century Limited train last night crashed into an automobile at the Chestnut street crossing in the downtown section, killing four women and a man.

The victims were returning from the community picnic held by the city at a nearby summer resort.

The dead: MRS. C. H. BUTTENBENDER, 55, MRS. J. E. EMMER, 60, MRS. J. C. CONAWAY, 52, MRS. J. E. WEISS, 50, CAPT. C. H. BUTTENBENDER, 58.

According to witnesses the crossing gates were not down and freight cars standing on sidings obscured the views so that Captain Buttenbender, who was driving the machine, did not see the limited approaching. The train struck the automobile squarely in the side and crushed it into a tangled mass of wreckage in which the women were torn and mangled. Captain Buttenbender and part of the automobile were carried fully 200 feet along the tracks on the pilot of the locomotive.

The victims were rushed to Memorial hospital, but Mrs. Buttenbender, Mrs. Emmer and Mrs. Conaway were dead when they arrived there.

Captain Buttenbender and Mrs. Weiss were alive, but unconscious and died two hours later.

CANADA'S LADY. STOCK SALE!

The Duchess of Devonshire Back in Old Scenes.

A FRIEND OF QUEEN MARY.

The Daughter of a Former Governor General, Lord Lansdowne, Returns to Ottawa, This Time With Her Husband, the Duke of Devonshire.

The Duke and Duchess of Devonshire are likely to prove a great success in Canada when the duke takes the place of the Duke of Connaught as governor general. As for the duchess, she will be welcomed to Ottawa by hundreds of friends and acquaintances who recall the years of her girlhood, which she spent there as Lady Evelyn.

DUCHESS OF DEVONSHIRE

Fitzmaurice during the governor generalship of her father, the Marquis of Lansdowne. The duke, although head of one of the most historic houses of England—that of Cavendish, thus occupying a position in the very front rank of his sovereign's peers as owner of a dukedom dating from the seventeenth century—and a Knight of the Garter, is the most simple and unaffected of men.

Enormously rich, his wealth being derived from ancestral estates that extend over some 200,000 acres and from big mines in the counties of Lancaster and Derby, he is a very clever and sound business man and can boast that he has never had an idle moment in his life. He has been chairman until now of a great shipbuilding company and of a number of other big industrial and mining concerns, mostly connected more or less directly with his. He owns almost the whole of the prosperous and important seaside town of Eastbourne, which he and his duchess have done much to develop.

The Duke of Devonshire is perhaps the most intimate personal friend of King George, while the duchess is the mistress of the robes and dominant member of the household of Queen Mary, their close relations with one another dating back to their early girlhood.

Uncooked Ketchup.

Chop together half a peck of ripe tomatoes, three red and three green peppers without the seeds, four celery stalks and two onions to make uncooked catsup. Add a cupful of tarragon vinegar, half a cupful of black and white mustard seed, a cupful of brown sugar, a teaspoonful of black pepper, a teaspoonful of cinnamon, half a cupful of salt and a pint of vinegar. Mix well and put into jars.
